Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The following open letter written by George Legg to Congressman Harry L. Englebright and others in Congress indicates the anxiety of a great number of thinking Americans regarding the politics-as-usual attitude of U. S. Senators and Representatives:

AN OPEN LETTER TO CONGRESSMAN ENGLEBRIGHT ET AL.

"A neighbor recently said to me: "Who shall we run against Harry Englebright?" Another asked: "Have you written your Congressman yet?" To the last I answered, yes. The letter was sent a year ago to Senator Hiram Johnson and ran something like this:

"Dear Senator:

"Some steps should be taken now toward correcting the labor situation (The Allis Chalmers racketeering strike was fresh in my mind). You owe your seat in the Senate to the labor vote. If you favor labor restrictions you may lose your seat. If some such legislation is not enacted here may not be any seat."

"Carbon copies of the latter were sent to Senator Sheridan Downey and Congressman Harry L. Englebright.

"Not having been favored with a reply from any of these worthy gentlemen I must assume none of them received it. Some secretary probably dumped in the waste basket as merely a letter from a crazy nut out in California.

"Remember France. Its labor unions, its People's Front, etc. There isn't any France now. Last summer I saw items in the newspapers to the effect that Japan would be committing hari-kari to attack us. WE, the big America was invulnerable. (And we are if the people have sense enough to kick out the politicians and get down to work, eliminate the labor racketeers and give the honest American working man a chance to do his stuff.) But my remark about no seat for Hiram may not be so crazy if we don't take some drastic action before it is too late.

"We hear about an offensive move when we are ready. In the meantime our Congressmen roll merrily along supporting labor unions as they now stand, voting billions and raising salaries. A high class debating society with power to squander millions and exchanging costly favors may be tolerated in peace times. Perhaps we can afford it. But now we are at war and unless I am greatly mistaken, in dire peril. Voting billions and sustaining labor's demand for short working hours will not win the war. Approximately 8,000 working hours were lost last week at a comparatively small ship yard at Richmond. Who made such conditions possible. My answere is: 'You, Mr. Englebright and your fellow members in Congress.'

"United support of the League of Nations might have saved the 2700 lives lost at Pearl Harbor, and the lives lost since then, and the lives that are still to be sacrificed before this war ends. Please tell us who led the fight against President Wilson and the League of Nations.

"Who voted against arming our merchant ships? Tell us how you voted? Did you read the account in the papers about the boys on a tanker in the Pacific off our coast, one of whom said: 'If we had only had a gun!' How about that telegram sent asking about the vote for pensions for needy Congressmen? I understand you never deigned to reply.

"The newspapers state that John L. Lewis gets a salary of $25,000 a year, a palatial office, and I understand other perquisites. His brother and daughter are also drawing down generous salaries. They earn this money when the Lewis family and others like them can frighten Congress into defeating all attempts to change the 40-hour work week law when the country is battling for its existence. This law should be sus-

DR. FRANK MUNK WILL BE SPEAKER AT LOCAL FORUM

Dr. Frank Munk will be the speaker at the Nevada City Public Forum meeting here tonight at the Elementary School Auditorium.

Dr. Munk, lecturer in economics at the University of Califarnia, is an authority on the European situation. He is a native of Czechoslavakia and a refugee from that country. His address will be entitled "Winning the Economic War."

Following the lecture by Dr. Munk there will be an hour devoted to discussion.

The lecture series, which will close May 7th, is sonsored by the Nevada City Unified School District.

Dr. Munk is an authority on problems of totalitarian economics, international trade relations and social implications of the present emergency.

He understands Nazi aims and plans for eventual control of all nations and the destruction of their economic and political systems, with a view to subjection to German control.

Nevada Cityans will not only find Dr. Munk an able speaker but his subject timely and interesting.

FEB, GAS SALES SHOW DECLINE

SACRAMENTO, March 26.—Distribution of gasoline throughout California continued to show a gain during February, but an indication of the beginning of a downward trend was seen in the figures.

On the basis of the distribution of 147,604,993 gallons of gasoline, the February motor vehicle fuel tax amounted to $4,428,149.83. This represented a gain of $113,333.45 or 2.63 per cent over the same month of the previous year.

Board officials have been expecting a drop in gasoline tax income because of the restricted use of tires. It was pointed out that the 2.63 per cent gain reported for February, was well below the average gain of 10 per cent recorded during the last year and a half.

GOLD MINERS TO MEET IN SACRAMENTO

Under the joint sponsorship of all of California's mining associations, the gold miners of the state will meet at Sacramento tomorrow to plan ways of operating under present priorities restrictions.

Representatives of the various associations have already met at the suggestion of Senator Jesse Mayo, veteran member of the state legislature from the Mother Lode counties, to outline the part the gold mining industry should play in the war program and in the economic stabilization of the country.

"It is generally agreed" Senator Mayo stated, "that if the gold and silver mines are materially interfering with the war effort, they will voluntarily shut down. However it is felt that the gold mines consume very small quantities of materials needed in the war effort and that the benefits they afford our mountain communities more than offset this small consumption of materials.

"This is in no sense to be a protest meeting. Rather, it is to be a meeting wherein the operators of our gold mines can formulate plans for constructive cooperation with our government's agencies in compiling much needed facts and figures on the industry's needs as well as in developing plans for cutting to the very bone the consumption of materials wanted for guns and tanks and ships.

"We should remember that gold is going to be a most strategic metal when the nations of the world gather around the peace table after the war is over. It would be tragic to win the war if we were to lose the peace afterward. Then gold will be wanted to assist the stricken nations of the world in the program of rehabilitation."

The meeting will be held in the Native Sons' Hall, 11th and J Streets Sacramento, beginning at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Tatton Visitor Here—

Fred Tatton, secretary of the Sacramento Region, State Chamber of Commerce, conferred with H. F. Sofge, local chamber secretary, here yesterday.

PHIL COUGHLAN IN RADIO APPEAL TO ALL PATRIOTS

Young John Phillip Coughlan, who, while a student at Stanford, spent one summer here as a member of ditch digging gang for the P. G. & E. of which his father, John P. Coughlan, born on San Juan Ridge, is vice president, has joined the armed forces. Young Coughlan, now a member of the California Bar and of the Barristers club of San Francisco, participated recently in a series of radio broadcasts by club members. According to the San Francisco Recorder, a daily newspaper for the legal profession, Phil Coughlan, as he is known among his friends, expressed in a general letter his profound and patriotic understanding of the Bill of Rights. His letter, read during the broadcast, follows:

"Dear Friends: Tomorrow I am leaving my home and my family to go on active duty with our armed forces. I am going to do my small part to help our country win this world battle or freedom. While I am gone it is necessary for me to entrust to you the guardianship at home of our democratic ways. No longer will I be able to uphold the rights of the man who wishes to speak, to think and to follow his religion as he chooses. These freedoms I leave to you to guard. No longer will I be able to take part in our elections, so to you I must entrust the careful selection of the officers of our democracy.

"You will have to make many sacrifices to protect these liberties for me, while I am gone. You must both protect them from aggression from within and aid me to protect them from aggression from without."

"Today, as free people, you are voluntarily giving up many of your freedoms and much of your material possessions to aid the prosecution of the war. These same freedoms and possessions the people of other nations had arbitrarily taken away from them. This voluntary sacrifice is a great honor, both to you who give, and to the country that receives. I want to thank you as a neighbor too for the sacrifices you have made, and will make, to protect my democracy for me, as I know you will thank me for my small contribution to the protection of your democracy for you.

"I have entrusted my liberties and rights at home to you for you to guard, as I go out to fight for the liberties of us both. Guard them well. Upon my return you will be held accountable for your stewardship.

New Post Office Will Be Occupied By Next July

The Nugget, which in its Monday issue announced to Nevada Cityans the plans for a new postoffice building here, has secured additional data on the proposed building from W. B. Mouser, postoffice inspector.

Mouser informs The Nugget the building is expected to be occupied in July. The value of the building will approximate $17,000.

Inspector Mouser's letter to The Nugget follows:

Mr. H. M. Leete,
Editor, Nevada City Nugget,
Nevada City, California.
Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 23rd instant, seeking information regarding the new post office building at Nevada City, California.

The Government has let the contract to Mr. R. Perrott, 2011 Yolo Street, Berkeley, California, and Mr. Perrott is now in Nevada City, arranging for all necessary work in connection with the erection of the building.

The total value of the property to be leased is approximately $17,000.00. The building is expected to be occupied in July, 1942. This building will front on Commercial Street, and there will be tailboard space for two trucks at a vestibule near Main Street.

The successful proponent is planning the erection of a building which it is confidently believed will be a credit to Nevada City.

Sincerely yours,
W. B. MOUSER,
Post Office Inspector.

NEVADA CITY SCHOOL PUPILS GAIN FROM LUNCH PROGRAM

Nevada City Elementary School authorities report attendance has improved and the pupils are more adept in the afternoon classes as the result of the hot lunch program, inaugurated two months ago.

The school officials said there are 311 of the 400 students at the elementary school eating the noon lunches provided in cooperation with the Works Projects Administration and the Surplus Commodities Administration.

A decided drop in absences due to illness also has been noted since the hot lunch program went into effect.

To provide the lunches, the local school trustees constructed a kitchen and dining room. Kitchen equipment was provided by the Elementary Parent Teachers Association, headed by Mrs. L. G. Lageson.

A larger stove has been installed and instead of one cook to prepare the hot lunches there are three. The cooks are provided by the WPA.

The lunches are served the students by seven boy high school student members of the home economics class and seven girl students of the canteen class.

It is believed by the local school leaders Nevada City holds the distinction of having the largest percentage of pupils participating in the hot lunch program of any school in the state.

Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger, school health nurse, said in addition to improving the adeptness of the school students, a noticeable gain in weight has been recorded by the majority of the pupils.

The daily menus are planned by Mrs. Hefelfinger and Miss Alicia Allen.

Idaho-Maryland Mine Profits Drop In 1941

The Idaho-Maryland Mines Corporation reports for 1941 net profit of $1,008,315 after all charges equal to 56 cents a share, compared with $1,183,159, or 66 cents a share in 1940.

Operations during the year were affected by the lack of mine personnel, which, according to E. L. Oliver, president, necessitated the concentration of operations in higher grade ore to offset decline in production.

As a result of this change, ore values for the year increased nearly 36 per cent notwithstanding a 35 per cent decline in production. Ore values last year was $15.20 per ton compared with $11.19 in 1940 and $9.87 in 1939.

Year end balance sheet shows total current assets of $969,050, including $468,815 cash and $320,964 materials and supplies. Current liabilities totaled $288,360. At the end of 1940 current assets were $1,039,391, cash $500,572, inventory $192,240, and current liabilities $402,540.

CHAMBER NOMINATING COMMITTEE WILL ISSUE REPORT

The nominating committee of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce will submit its report at the meeting of the chamber here Monday night and seven new directors will be elected by the membership.

Later the directors will elect a president and other officers from their midst.

Frank Finnegan, Tom Lawrence and Jack Hubbard are the members of the nominating committee.

ALLEGHANY WOMAN RETAINS TITLE AS CHAMPION SKIER

Mrs. Weonana Bruening of Alleghany retained her title for the downhill speed race for women at the Bald Mountain Ski Course near Forest Sunday. Leon Stoesnieder won the slalom event while Willard Van Doren captured the downhill race for men with Red Bruening placing second and Dr. Vernon Padgett third.

Due to the interest in the speed races, the cross country event was cancelled for lack of time, although J. F. Wheeler was acknowledged to have the best form in traveling.

Miss Joan Carvin, 6, daughter of Supervisor and Mrs. Elton Carvin, was given the honor of being the youngest skier and also to have used the ski tow the most times.

E. J. Wyllie, 63, enjoyed several rides and recalled many thrilling times of other years.

Another month of good skiing is in sight at the Bald Mountain Ski Course and the tow will be in operation each weekend.

ELKS SPONSOR CARD PARTY AS BENEFIT FOR R C

Nevada City's Red Cross War Relief goal is still some $150 short.

For that reason the Nevada City Elks Lodge have made arrangements to hold a card party in the Elks Hall here Saturday night to attempt to raise funds to bring the local quota over the top.

The staging of the card party has received the whole hearted backing of the Red Cross Chapter here and it is hoped there will be a large attendance at the card party.

The prizes are being donated by Nevada City merchants.

Caught in the Riffles

The sheriff's office this week received papers to serve on E. O. Chappel involving quiet title proceedings in South Dakota. CHAPPEL HAS BEEN DEAD FOR TWO YEARS!

"Darned if I'm going up to the cemetery to serve him,' said Undersheriff William D. Woods.

Following is the political lineup, as far as county offices are concerned, for the primary election in August.

County Clerk—R. N. McCormack, incumbent, may have no opposition.

Sheriff—Carl J. Tobiassen, incumbent, will, from all reports, have at least two opponents. Those in the field beside Tobiassen are Dick Hoskins and Fred Williford, former deputy, both of Grass Valley.

Recorder—No opposition so far for Incumbent Jack Nettelll.

Treasurer—Frank Steel, incumbent, hasn't said whether he will run or not. Joe Henwood of Grass Valley mentioned for the post as well as Frank Bennallack. The latter will run, however, only if Steel doesn't run.

Superintendent of Schools—No one mentioned yet to oppose Walter Carlson.

Assessor—Incumbent John Hammill has announced he will retire. Phil Scadden of Nevada City, present deputy assessor, has announced his candidacy and Eben K. Smart of Grass Valley is campaigning for the office.

District Attorney—Vernon Stoll will no doubt seek reelection. No doubt, also, he will have opposition but none of the other attorneys in the county have yet signified their intention of running. Last time Stoll won by a nose over H. Ward Sheldon of Nevada City.

Justice of the Peace—George Gildersleeve holds the position on appointment from the board of supervisors after the death of Walter L. Mobley. No one has been mentioned to oppose Gildersleeve.

Constable—Following the resignation of Bill Jeffry, Jim Williams was appointed constable. Williams will seek election but no opposition has developed for him yet.

Supervisors—The terms of Jay Coughlan at Columbia Hill and Warren Odell of Clear Creek expire. At the present time no opposition has developed against either.

NEVADA COUNTY HAS ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR THE WORLD'S MEANEST THEIF. HE IS THE CULPRIT WHO HAS BEEN STEALING THE HEADSTONES, AND FENCES BORDERING GRAVES FROM A GRASS VALLEY CEMETERY.

The Chamber of Commerce didn't like the reflection cast on Nevada City by Herb Caen in his column in the S. F. Chronicle so Secretary H. F. Sofge has been instructed by the directors to write in to the newspaper complaining.

Yuba County, according to a story published in a Sacramento newspaper, will have an evacuation camp for Japanese. The evacuation camp will be on a 190 acre field and will be fenced in. An expected 3,000 Japanese aliens will be housed there.

It is understood Japanese had made negotiations to purchase or lease land in this county to live upon for the duration of the war but real estate men as well as landowners would rather do without the money than see an infiltration of the race in this area.

NOTES: Nevada City civic leaders were all excited about the possibility of 3,000 soldiers would be housed in this district from now until the cantonment is built but it developed Marysville has made arrangements to take care of the soldiers in that community. Phil Angove and his pretty fiancee have set Easter Sunday as their wedding date.

TAXATION FOR SURVIVAL

From time to time in recent months charges of "huge" profits made on war contracts have come from Washington. Report after report has paraded through the nation's headlines. A few extreme cases were seized upon, and many people began to believe that these extremes were normal.

As a matter of fact they're not. The Vinson committee itself estimated that a 7 per cent profit is "fair and just" and found that upon all government contracts profits have averaged 6.5 per cent.

Industry is not holding out for excessive profits. If any one doubts that, the recent action of the National Association of Manufacturers should set him right. For the NAM, which represents 80 per cent of the nation's war production manufacturers, is urging Congress to adopt a program of taxation "to the limit—leaving only enough for survival—in order to guarantee victory, to eliminate profiteering and to insure the future solvency of our government." According to this program, "all corporations and individuals with income should be taxed to the maximum of their ability to pay for the teriffic burden of this war."

In this emergency every group in the country must cooperate to the fullest extent if America is going to lick the Axis in the shortest possible time. Such an appeal for a tax program indicates how completely industry realizes this. Nothing else matters but victory. But to achieve it we're all got to work together—pay and work and sacrifice as we never have before. No matter what the cost, however, it's cheaper than defeat.

HOME FIRES

Since America was bombed into the war on December 7 we've seen some rough going for our side. We've had to take bad news as best we could, and it hasn't been easy. Hunched over our papers, bending close to our radios, we've all passed some dismal moments of anger and despair.

Before this war is ended we'll pass through many more. Even though our factories are speeding up their production of war materials we won't have enough to take the offensive on a big scale for many long months to come. We're going to have to work harder than we ever have before. We're going to have to face ugly facts with courage, shut our eyes and ears to defeat, dig in and do our jobs better than ever. That's the only way we can win.

Our war industries are trying in many ways to deliver the goods as fast as possible. In addition to all other jobs they're trying to keep up the morale of their employees, for during the last war, when morale sagged, production also dropped. To keep that from happening this time, some plants are serving between meals "snacks" to offset fatigue caused by longer hours. Others are supplying free home-town newspapers to counteract homesickness in workers who are away from home. Pep rallies, special recognition for extra-hard-working employees—they're trying not to overlook a single thing that will increase production.

Keeping up morale is a job that all of us can do, however. It's bound to be tough, giving up many of our easy comforts, changing our lives under the impact of war. But we can do it cheerfully, and we must. For beck here behind the lines we've got to keep those "home fires burning." We've got to accept what we must and keep going. Indeed, that's the very least that we can do.

Carl J. Tobiassen, Jr., son of Sheriff and Mrs. Tobiassen, is now employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in Sacramento. Tobiassen for a time had been stationed as a guard at Truckee.

"Which would you prefer in your ideal husband — wealth, ability or appearance" asked one spinster.

"Appearance," replied the second old maid, "and quick."

Then there was the bowlegged floorwalker who said to the customer, "walk this way, please."

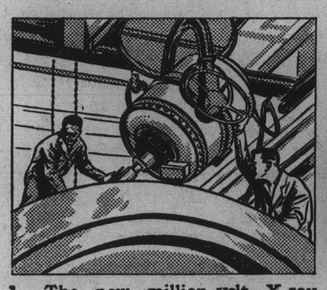
Steel-Piercing Eye

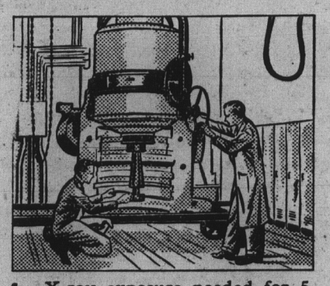
Steel used in vital parts for war machines—planes, tanks, ships, guns—must be flawless, because America's fighting men must have weapons that are both accurate and tough.



1. The new million volt X ray built by General Electric saves precious hours in finding flaws. It is so powerful that its rays can pierce thick steel castings.

2. Defects in the steel show up on X-ray film. Therefore faulty materials are tossed aside before costly hours of machining have been spent on them.

3. A regular check-up on pieces of X-ray film worn on workers' wrists helps guard against prolonged exposure to the rays given off by the X-ray tube.



4. X-ray exposure needed for 5-inch-thick steel is now 2 minutes instead of previous 3½ hours! Whole days are saved in examination of even thicker castings.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

FORMER N. C. BOY COMPOSES NEW RADIO FEATURE

NOTE: Over KJBS every week day at 12:30 p. m. is heard a broadcast of the "News in Verse." The author of this radio broadcast feature is Harley M. Leete, Jr., a graduate of the Nevada City High School and of the University of California, now employed by the Drury company, well known advertising firm of San Francisco. From time to time the Nugget will publish these news rhymes. The first of the series follows:

ELEPHANTS IN WAR

Through steaming jungle's murk.
The toiling giants work.
The elephants now slave,
With mien so very grave,
That it hides the hate they hold,
For the little Japs so bold.

For the Jap is now their master,
And goads them on, 'till faster,
They must bear their heavy loads,
Along swampy Burma roads.
'Till at last, worn out, they drop,
And force a tortured stop.

The Japs on trucks seem low,
So near Mandalay they go,
Upon the jungle king,
And with blows make jungle ring.
It reminds me of a tale, I'll swear,
Of a certain midnight fair.

The elephant does not forget,
A slight, an insult, or a bet.
In short, he's like a boomerang,
Seeming quiet, then with a bang,
He pay vengeance plenty hard—
Someone's health is muchly marred.

Remember now the animal fair—
The birds and beasts were there
The monkey got quite drunk,
And stepped on the elephant's trunk.
The elephant sneezed,
And fell on his knees—

Yes, you remember the animal fair,
And the Jap's the monk, we'll swear.
And the elephant's trunk, we already know,
Is bruised by Jap's remorseless blow.
The elephants lke the states now free,
Will pay their debt to bandits three.

The power mad Japs are thoroughly drunk,
Have bruised and battered freedom's trunk,
Soon, suddenly, by action rushed,
Monk by elephant will be crushed.
The future'll see Jap plan proved bunk,
Then ask—what became of the monk, the monk?

THE VIGIL OF THE ROSE

Through the sun-flecked aisles of a western forest,
I followed a trail unused for years,
To a desolate camp where a brooklet chatters
Of the days of old and the ioneers;
Shattered and dank are the rough hewn cabins,
Gone are the young hearts gay and bold
But the scarred earth mutely tells a story
Of restless toil in the quest for gold.

No sound is heard save the brooks light laughter
And the winds that whisper among the trees,
Bringing faint echoes to inland forests
From throbbing cities and cool grey seas;
But through the warm air gently stealing
A wistful fragrance comes and goes
For there in a solitude long unbroken
Year after year has blossomed a rose.

Whose were the hands that once caressed it
Watered and tended with loving care?
What were the words once whispered to it
As it grew and budded and blossomed there?
Why does it still live on in beauty
Waiting alone in a wasted place
Faithful to all that the years have taken
Adorning the spot with its winsome grace?

Perhaps at night through the hush of twilight
Ther comes a wraith from the days of old
To fondle again the silken petals
And smile as the perfumed buds unfold;
Perhaps as the brooding shadows deepen
The darkened cabins and yawning mines
Spring into life as the rose tree watches
And old friends meet 'neath the solemn pines.

But to one who followed the fading pathway
To the desolate camp of the pioneers,
There were only the wee brook's idle chatter
And visions seen through the mist of years;
Only a rose tree, its vigil keeping
Year after year in shade and shine
Only silence where once were voices
And sound of toil from a roaring mine.

THINKING OUT LOUD

pended for the duration. Let us have American labor unions. Let the government see that both labor and capital get a souare deal, and intern these $25,000 parasites for the duration.

"How about Sidney Hillman getting a dollar a year working for the government and $12,000 a year from his union? He is the one that saw to it that his own unions got the job of making all army uniforms. And how about McNutt and his co-ordinators for all kinds of sports and games? Is this any relation to the Strength Through Joy societies of Hitler's Germany? What about Eleanor's fancy dancer? Why is no attention paid to the universal demand that Mrs. Wilson, whose New Deal name is Francis Perkins, resign? (Why doesn't she use her honest name?) What's this talk about bribing her to resign by offering her onother job at $18,000 a year?

"What about rationing sugar so that alcohol distillers can use it instead of millions of tons of grain, rotting in government warehouses? What about the CIO getting a woman discharged who was trying to speed up production of munitions in her department?

"As good loyal Americans in time of war we must support our commander-in-chief whether we approve all his acts or not. He was duly elected and is entitled to our support.

"But we do not have to stand for a Congress and that bungles and blunders and plays politics with the lives of our boys in the armed services. You, in Congress, were elected to see that our lives and property are safeguarded. Did you do it? You may claim a mistake in judgment. But it was your business to know that Japan was ready to strike. If you did not know, it was because you were so absorbed in your political games, that we now find the country in a very bad mess.

"Our solution of this problem is to begin in Maine and cross the country to Caliornia, sweeping out the whole crowd this fall. Let us send some greenhorns or hard-boiled guys. They could do no worse. At least we should be able to find men who think more of their country than perpetuating their jobs.."

Sincerely yours
GEORGE LEGG.

Hindu Charges Marysville Youth With Grand Theft For Stealing Automobile

Roy English, 18, of Marysville, is held in the county jail here on a charge of grand theft for the reported stealing of an automobile from Nathu Singh, a Hindu in Grass Valley.

According to the story told officers through an interpreter, English was given a ride by Nathu who was enroute to Loomis. English took a turn at the wheel and instead of going to Loomis, came to Grass Valley.

There English wanted Nathu to buy a drink and when the latter refused, English became angry. Nathu fled and went to the Grass Valley police station. In the meantime the youth drove away in the car.

English was apprehended in Marysville. The car was recovered and English was charged with stealing tires from it and selling them for $5.

Nathu told the police he had $103 hidden in the car. The $103 was not found when the car was recovered.

—Christian Science Society

The Christian Science Society in Nevada City holds service at 114 Boulder Street every Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. A testimonial meeting is held the first Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m.

"A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good." These words from Luke comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Reality."

Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works. All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord: and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power. Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations" (Ps. 145: 9, 10, 11, 13).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas."
